

CBP Private Air APIS Business Rules Guide

Office of Field Operations

Version 1.0
March 2009

SUITABLE FOR PUBLIC DISSEMINATION

Executive Summary

Advance Passenger Information System (APIS) regulations require APIS manifests to be submitted to U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) for all private aircraft arriving from or departing for a foreign port or place. For specific information on the regulations, see “USCBP-2007-0064, Advance Information on Private Aircraft Arriving and Departing the United States,” published November 18, 2008, available at www.dhs.gov. In addition, APIS regulations require that electronic notices of arrival and departure and manifest information relative to travelers (passengers and crew) be submitted within specific timeframes. For more information on procedures for private aircraft arriving and/or departing the United States, please see the “Guide for Private Flyers” available at www.cbp.gov.

This Business Rules document provides guidance to third-party developers who wish to create applications based on the Electronic Advance Passenger Information System (eAPIS) Extensible Markup Language (XML) schema or individual users who wish to utilize the versatility afforded by the XML schema submission method. The majority of private flyers will not need to use the XML schema for their submissions. Third party applications must conform to both the business rules document, as well as the XML schema. Final XML output may be submitted to CBP via eAPIS upload or another CBP-approved electronic data interchange system. The XML schema is subject to change without notice. When changes are made, this document will be updated to reflect those changes.

Please note, CBP makes no claims, promises or guarantees about the accuracy, completeness or adequacy of the contents of this document and expressly disclaims liability for errors and omissions. This document does not purport to address every possible variation within a notice of arrival/departure and/or traveler manifest. This document does not create or confer any right or benefit on any person or party, private or public.

I. Methods of Submission

Private aircraft pilots (or their designees) are required to submit the notice of arrival and notice of departure information to CBP through an approved electronic data interchange system in the same transmission as the corresponding arrival or departure traveler manifest information. The Electronic Advance Passenger Information System (eAPIS) web portal is approved for use by either completing the required fields within eAPIS and submitting the data or uploading an XML manifest through eAPIS.

For individuals with the technical expertise, the option of using the eAPIS Manifest Web Service is available. Applicants for this method will be granted Web Service Access through their Private Aviation eAPIS account. The Web Services Description Language (WSDL) will then be available for download. When the user is ready, Certification Access will be provided to allow for manifest testing. Upon successful completion of testing, the user will be certified and Web Service Submission Access will be permitted. Although CBP will grant access and test for certification, CBP will not provide technical support on how to set up the Web Service option.

Additionally, application may be made to submit XML manifests to CBP through already-existing direct connections or through the set up of new connections. This will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. For assistance with this or the Web Service option, please contact CBP by emailing Private.Aircraft.Support@dhs.gov.

II. All Manifest Data Element Validation Rules

While the XML schema describes the structure of the file and the data types, it does not guarantee the actual delivered data will be compliant with the receiving system. For example, the receiving system may require a value of either YES or NO, and any other value may not be compatible with the system's business rules for evaluating the content. Therefore, in order to correctly assemble the XML file, the business rules for each data element must be known and followed. The following provides the business rules for each data element named in the XML Schema.

This section will serve to describe data elements required by APIS regulations that will be listed in all manifests submitted to CBP. The data elements are listed by XML Schema Tag in the general order in which they should be uploaded.
